Conference met at the usual hour. In the bsence of the Bishop, detained from his seat by sickness, Rev. Dr. Duncan called to order and presided during the day. Prayer was offered by Rev. Joseph Lear. Several members who had been absent from previous sessions appeared and had their names enrolled. An interesting feature of the day was the large number of spectators, who remained during the entire session. Every available seat in the house was filled, and many were standing in the gallery and also in the aisles for want of room.

The Secretary read the record of yesterday's proceedings. The names of Rev. John Bayley and Dr.

Wingfield were put on the Committee on Publishing Interests in place of those previously published. APPLICANTS FOR DEACONS' ORDERS.

The following gentlemen, after an approved examination, had their characters passed, and were advanced to deacons' orders-viz., James W. Bashaw, of the Culpeper circuit, vouched for and highly recommended by Rev. James A. Proctor; Mr. L. E. Finch, of the Farmville district others; Mr. Junius B. Deberry, of Mur-freesboro', vouched for and recommended by Rev. B. F. Woodward, Mr. Reed, and others; Mr. Samuel B. McKinney, of the Norfolk district (now preaching at Princess Anne Courthouse), was youched for by Rev. L. S. Reed and others; Mr. Joseph P. H. Chrismond, of the Randolph-Macon district (now preaching in the Spotsylvania circuit), vouched for and recommended by Rev. Edward P. Wilson; also, Mr. William E. Evans, now supplying a place in the King and Queen circuit; Mr. Lewis B. Betty, of the Richmond district, youched for by Rev. D. P. Wills, Dr. Edwards, and others.

Mr. Betty has been operating for the past year as an itinerant in the Gloucester circuit. Under this fact an interesting question arose-viz., Whether a service as an itinerant is equal, in the eye of the law, to year as a local preacher or probationer? The question was discussed by Revs. Dr. Edwards, Dr. Rosser, and others. As the Bishop was absent the application was withdrawn until such time as he should be in the chair to pass upon it, the Conference not having jurisdiction in the matter. ELDERS' ORDERS.

The following candidates were passed in examination of character, and were severally elected to elders' orders-viz., Joseph D. Arnold, of Danville, and E. A. Hawkes, of Nottoway. THE CLASS OF THE SECOND YEAR

was then called, and the following who had passed to deacons' orders-viz., F. C. Woodward, William H. Atwell, James H. Dalby, Charles D. Crawley, Benjamin S. Herring, and William J. Twilley.

These are all students of Randolph-Macon College, where they stood very high in their classes, having passed successful examinations.

Rev. L. S. Reed presented the request of John O. Lawrence for deacons' orders. Mr. Lawrence was a member of the Methodist Episeopal Church, and having joined this Conference, now makes request as above. He had received ordination papers from the church which he had left. His ordination was agreed to by the Conference. THE CLASS OF THE FOURTH YEAR

VISITORS.

Rev. J. B. McPherrin, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn., missionary secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church Sonth, was introduced to the Conference and was received with a rising welcome. MISSIONARY AID SOCIETY. The Missionary aid Society of the Virginia Conference held a meeting at the Broad-Street church yesterday afternoon. Rev. S. A. Steele was called to the chair, and prayer was offered by Rey. Dr. McPherrin.

After the meeting had been well organ ized Dr. McPherrin was called on by the Society to give them information about fields now opened to missionaries. Several places were spoken of by him as being now ripe for the accomplishment of great good if filled by good and suitable men.

The Rev. Mr. Woodward made some very pertinent remarks in favor of Japan as the most effective point upon which to work, and the subject was laid over. The Committee on the Order of Business made their report as follows:

Committee. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION. This was announced as the theme of the meeting last night, and notwithstanding the rain which was falling at the time Broad-Street church was well filled at the hour set for the meeting. It was known that Drs. Duncan and Granbery would deliver addresses in furtherance of the cause stood the necessary examination were of education, and their fame as orators no less than the cause they were to drew a large crowd to hear them. The ex-

by Dr. Granbery. Dr. Duncan commenced by saying that by reason of his connection with the cause of Christian education in this Conference it seemed appropriate that he should open the discussion. He stated that in all the relations of life whatever is done should be done wisely and well, and in no other condition of life was it more appropriate than in this. It had been impressed on his mind by his relation to the cause. Human beings are curious things. It is hard to get a clear and straight-out judgment from a man on any subject. There are so many circumstances to bias his judgment. A great many persons underrate education. All compare it with semething that they appreciate more highly-the farmer, his implements; the mechanic, his tools and work; the merchant, his business and polite and attentive employes. To some preachers, for various reasons, there are some things more valuable in their eyes than this cause of education. This, happily, is not the case with all in these classes. Some of them think so, but not all. Let us not say that because a man is educated he is not fit for any of these pursuits, but sift it and find out what there is in it. little almanae which hangs yonder cost the work of generations. Suppose you take away from these classes all that education had furnished them, and where would they be to-day? Don't underrate educacuit; Bernard F. Lipscomb, of Trinity tion, but weigh it and see what it is worth. In the minds of some when education is compared with anything that is uppermost in their thoughts they cast it aside as being of less value. Well-educated labor is of far more value than that of the ignorant. It is not fair to compare these things. astronomer prefers his telescope, the chemist his laboratory, the book-worm his library, to anything else in this world which you can offer him. There is not one man in ten thousand who is a respectable student after the truth. In comparing education with religion the speaker gave a scathing rebuke to those scientists who reject it, and try to prove by the test of prayer that there is nothing it. Education is mental discipline, and put it where you please it is valuable. Let a laborer think, and his work is worth greatly more than that of him who is incoherent, irregular, and undisciplined. In every department of life we go to the most intelligent men of their class from whom to get advice and information, whether a builder, merchant, doctor, or lawyer. From education also we get a great many incidental pieces of information which are not accessible to the unlearned; the composition of the earth, trees, fruits, and flowers. We want to train this rising generation in all the knowledge of those who have lived before us. Education goes into every department of life; and here the church proposes to come in and take this vessel and make it fit for the Master's use. Without divine grace it is meet for nothing but what is earthly; without it he is an idolater and a sinner before God, using all his powers against Christ and his religion. Paul saw this in Athens, and he said, "Knowledge puffeth up." He also said, "We speak wisdom, but not the wisdom of this world."

THE RETURNS FROM THE FOURTH DISTRICT.

We have been unable as yet to publish the official returns from the various counties of the Fourth congressional district. We called at the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth yesterday, and was informed that returns had been received from all the counties except Mecklenburg. We published some days ago a report of 651 Radical majority from that county, which overcame the plurality for Colonel McPhail SPENCE & SON. in Charlotte, and elected Jones (Republican negro) to the Senate. Later advices show the majority in Mecklenburg to have been so far reduced as to secure the election of Colonel McPhail. In this connection we have heard a Republican rumor that the re turns from Mecklenburg were forwarded by mail several days since, but have never reached their destination, and that the county commissioners of election have been reconvened, and after recanvassing the vote and throwing out several precincts for informalities, secured the returns for Colonel McPhail. It is also rumored that Mr Board of Commissioners, refuses to sign the amended returns.

AN INTERESTING VISITOR .- Yesterday Colonel E. C. Colonel De Carteercises were opened by singing, and prayer ret is a member of the ancient family, one of whom, Sir George De Carteret, was founder of the colony (now the State) of New Jersey.

A PLEASANT SOCIABLE.—Professor Minor had a delightful entertainment at Monticello Hall last night. It was styled a Phantom Party, and while it was a success as far as its name and intents are concerned, it was by no means a phantem party in point of numbers of real people. It was a success in every respect. THE VANCE COMBINATION .- There was a good audience at the Theatre last evening lespite the fact that the weather was threatening, and the feelings of those present were correspondingly depressed. Yet every one there was impressed with the merits of Miss Vance and her company, and there FREE FROM FUSIL OIL and other impurities, and is but little doubt but that she will be greeted by large andiences at the matinee this afternoon and at the final performance this evening.
